« جولیا » برای تقسیم بندی مطالب خود در این کتاب از تنوع پوشاک استفاده کرده و هر فصل را به یک عنوان اختصاص داده است.

مواردی همچون لباس های زنانه، گردنبند، تی شرت، کت های مردانه، ژاکت، کفش های پاشنه بلند، عینک های آفتابی و... از این موارد هستند.

تصاویر و تنوع طرح ها دارای کیفیت و کمیت مناسبی هستند و جذابیت کافی دارند. این کتاب می تواند برای طراحان مد و پوشاک، مدرسان دانشگاه و دانشجویان همین رشته و نیز هنرمندان تصویرگر بسیار ارزشمند و کاربردی باشد.

INTRODUCTION

LET'S LEARN HOW TO DRAW

clothes and accessories together! We pick outfits every day based on where we're going, who we're meeting, what the weather's like, and how we want to look. As a form of self expression, fashion gives people around us a little peek into what we're all about. It can say that we're classy, unique, modern, laid-back, sporty, or a mixture of a few things. The world of fashion is also constantly changing, giving us new collections and trends every season to pick and choose from.

In this book, we've picked forty-five different types of clothing and accessories ranging from flats to ponchos to cocktail dresses. We've even got a few items for the men, as well as traditional clothes from Europe and Asia. We've come up with twenty different ways that each of these items can be drawn—can you come up with some of your own?

You can start out by trying to copy some of the items I've already drawn. Pick your favorite on each page or combine different items to make an outfit that you would wear. You can even pretend that you are a fashion editor or personal shopper and pick out a collection of different items that you want to group together.

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

These drawings are all made up of a combination of lines, shapes, and patterns. Many fashion items are inspired by basic shapes, so look for squares, circles, and triangles to help break down each object. Then consider the edges—should you use a straight line, curved line, or a squiggly one? Draw the big shapes and lines first, and then add in the smaller details. If you have tracing paper, you can trace the drawings directly, but don't worry about getting them exactly the same.

When you think you've gotten the hang of it, try drawing your own fashion items and accessories. Think about what you've got in your own closet or that new bag you've got your eye on. Or be a fashion designer and come up with your own styles. How many ways can you draw a little black dress or a light, fall coat? What would your own summer collection of sandals and heels look like?

Try to start out with a pencil and eraser so that you're not afraid of making mistakes. When you feel more comfortable with drawing, explore by using different types of tools—pens, colored pencils, markers, or even paints. Color in the existing drawings and then color in your own drawings. If you are feeling especially adventurous, you can cut out paper shapes and paste them onto the blank pages. It's always fun to try as many things as possible to decide what you like the best.

Don't forget to show your friends and family when you're done. Maybe you'll inspire them to make their own drawings of their favorite fashions!

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Julia Kuo grew up in Los Angeles and studied illustration and marketing at Washington University in St. Louis. She currently works as a freelance illustrator in Chicago. Julia designs stationery, illustrates children's books, concert posters, and CD covers, and paints in her free time. One of her gallery shows featured paintings of street fashion shots from Face Hunter. Julia's clients include American Greetings, the New York Times, Little, Brown and Company, Simon and Schuster, Capitol Records, and Universal Music Group. She is also part of The Nimbus Factory, a collective of two designers and two illustrators specializing in paper goods. Her illustrations have been honored in American Illustration, CMYK magazine, and Creative Quarterly. She is the author of 20 Ways to Draw a Cat and 44 other Awesome Animals, Quarry Books, 2013. Connect with her at juliakuo.com
